—We are not given to boasting but we are proud of the farmer boys of this county. They are with rare exceptions, a healthy, intelligent and a happy class of young men. We feel like taking our hat clear off when we meet them upon our streets, and no class is more welcomed to our office. Too many boys leave the farm where they would have made substantial and good citizens, and go to the city where only one in a thousand succeed in life's battle. There are farmers who fairly drive their boys away. There is no excuse for this. The farmer is entitled to his vacation, to several relaxations, his visits to the city, good books, magazines and his home paper. To the observing one it is plain to be seen, that the old farm is the best place in the world for you the average young man and never fails to bring a happier and more useful life than the city. Young men, you who till the soil and earn the bread by the sweat of your brow, we are proud of you; our latchstring is always out to you and you will always have a friend in this paper. Come and see us and give us the news from your neighborhood.

HERMAN MINCHY.

Harman Minchy, 45, well known farmer and citizen of the third district, killed himself Sunday morning by slashing his throat with a razor. Continued bad health is supposed to have been the cause of his rash act.

He was buried Sunday afternoon in the East Fork cemetery near his home. He leaves a wife and several children, all of whom are grown.

MRS. ILLA KING.

Mrs. Ila (Williamson) King, wife of Jas T. King, a prominent farmer and citizen of fifth district of this county, died at her home near Granville, Friday evening, Feb. 25th, about 9 o'clock, following an attack of acute indigestion.

Mrs. King was taken suddenly at late Friday afternoon while talking to one of her neighbors, who had spent the day with her, and had spoke of feeling very queer at the time of her guest's departure. Her suffering grew worse rapidly, and continued until the end came a few hours later.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Van Smith, of Hickman, Tenn., after which interments took place in a private cemetery in Granville.

The deceased was a daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Williamson, one of the best known and most highly respected families of that section. She was 43 years old and a devoted member of the Presbyterian church. She was loved by all who knew her, and her death has caused deep sorrow outside of the family relations.

Besides her husband and aged parents she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Arrington Ditty, of Murfreesboro five brothers; W. G., J. F. and Lex, of Granville, Hugh, of Celina and Bob, of Cleveland, O., and a sister Mrs. R. L. Hargis, of Granville.

FARM WANTED: Wanted to hear from owner of farm or good land for sale worth the price asked. L. Jones, Box 551, Olney, Ill.

J. S. Raggio, of the Gainesboro Dry Good Company, has returned from a several days stay in St. Louis and Cincinnati, where he has been buying new goods for the firm.

The entertainment given at the school house Saturday night under the auspices of the Christian Sunday school, was attended by a large and appreciative audience. The door receipts amounted to $26.00, which will go to the church seat-fund.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Midget were called to Carthage Friday morning on account the death of Mr. Midget's brother-in-law, Mr. W. D. Young, a prominent business man of that place.

Mrs. G. G. Draper is on the sick list.

W. M. Gailbreath is still improving, slowly. He is allowed to eat most anything he wants and sits propped up in his bed at times. His articulation is lots better.

The "no fence law" is taken as a joke in Gainesboro it seems. The streets are seldom clear of cows and hogs, cows especially.

Lost: A pair of shell rimmed spectacles with large lenses near Brooke's Ferry. Return to B. M. Haile, Gainesboro, and receive a liberal reward.

GAINESBORO R. 1.

Jesse Young and son, Victor, returned Wednesday from Sumner County where he recently purchased a farm. He and family expects to move to their new home about the first of April. He likes his farm all right but he still says there is no place like old Jackson County and the folks up here. We regret to give Jesse up as he is one of our most prosperous farmers. He was born and raised within three mile of Gainesboro and has a wide circle of friends over the county. He wants all of his old friends to be sure and visit him when he gets moved. His farm is close to Goodletsville, on the Nashville and Gallatin pike.

Billy Mason, a well known traveling man, was in Gainesboro this week.

Wirt McDonald, of Cookeville, was in Gainesboro Thursday.

The music department is progressing nicely under the direction of Miss Eolen. Her pupils seem to be more interested in the work than usual.

L. W. Lynch Seriously Hurt.

L. W. Lynch, who resides on Roaring river two and a half miles east of Gainesboro, was seriously, if not fatally hurt, about 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when he was thrown backwards against an iron coupling pole of a log-wagon.

Mr. Lynch, with some other men was rolling a log upon the wagon, and while attempting to hold the log from rolling and striking his muie, he was tripped by a rope and thrown with great force against the coupling, striking it with the back of his head at the base of the skull. He was carried to the home of his brother, H. J. Lynch, where medical aid was immediately summoned. It is thought by his physician, Dr. Gaw, that he had probably received a slight fracture at the base of the skull.

The latest report as we go to press is, that he is resting as well as could be expected.

W. D. Young Drowned Near Carthage.

Carthage, Tenn.—Mar. 4.—W. D. Young, proprietor of the Carthage Produce Company and a prominent business man, disappeared from a gasoline boat in which he was returning to Carthage Thursday night and is supposed to have fallen from the boat and drowned.

Mr. Young has been operating the boat above Carthage for the collection of produce, and recently while it was up the river the engine got out of fix. Mr. Young had gone up the river with a new engine and the boat was being brought back here when he disappeared. The last seen of him, he was standing in the door of the boat, but when it arrived here he was nowhere to be found. The supposition is that he fell overboard and was lost. Points down the river have been asked to look out for the body.

Mr. Young was married and was the father of four children. He was a son of John Young of Watertown, also in the produce business.—Banner.

School Defeats Town.

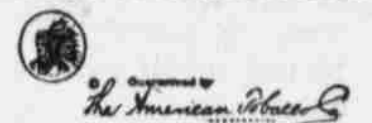

An interesting basket-ball game was played Friday night between the school and the town. The school came out winners by two points, 28 and 30. The first half ended in favor of the town, 11 to 9. When the last half was up, they were tied, an extra five minutes left the town two points behind. Star players, Bailey and McMinn.
